From wilderness to empire: A history of California

by Robert Glass Cleland

The Darwin Falls Wilderness is the area adjacent to Darwin Falls, it has a unique location in the northern Mojave Desert, just west of Death Valley National Park. The Darwin Falls Wilderness is a part of the National Wilderness Preservation System rooted by the California Desert History of Darwin Falls Wilderness[edit].