Fabian Marcaccio (born 1963 in Rosario, Argentina) is an Argentine-Italian born artist living and working in the United States whose trans-genre works including “Paintants” and “Draftants” have been exhibited worldwide. Marcaccio was born to a native Argentine mother and Italian father in Rosario de Santa Fe where he later attended the University of Philosophy. In 1985, at age 22, he moved to New York City, where he continues to live and work. He has exhibited widely throughout the United States, Europe and South America.