Editorial support is the gold-standard way to improve your book, manuscript or novel. Our editing services have helped countless writers to publication. Join them. One of our editors will read your manuscript in full, and give you detailed feedback on what the problems are and how to address them. The aim is to help you produce that final perfect draft. Our editors are hugely experienced, and have helped countless people through to publication. Oh, and if your work is strong enough to market, we’ll help find you an agent for free. Learn more. Children’s Manuscript Assessment. Our children’s team is exceptionally strong and includes authors who have won or been shortlisted for most of the significant awards in children’s fiction.
