Book Review Essay: My Life on the Road

Diana J. Fox, Bridgewater State University

Abstract

Note on the Author
Diana Fox is a professor and Chairperson, Department of Anthropology, Bridgewater State University. She is a cultural and applied anthropologist, scholar-activist, diversity consultant and documentary film producer. Her work focuses on the Anglophone Caribbean, particularly Jamaica and Trinidad & Tobago where she researches issues of gender and sexual diversity, women’s social movement activism for ecological sustainability, women’s human rights and transnational feminisms and activism. She is the Founder and Co-executive Editor of the open access, online Journal of International Women's Studies. Dr. Fox is the executive producer of the documentary film, Earth, Water, Woman: Community and Sustainability in Trinidad and Tobago in conjunction with Sarafinaproductions. She is currently collaborating with J-FLAG, the first Jamaican LGBT human rights organization on a documentary titled LGBT Lives: Untold Stories of Survival and Resistance.

Recommended Citation

My Life on the Road examines this nomadic existence, from her wanderings with her father to her countless sojourns around the US on political...