Shauna Grant (May 30, 1983 – March 23, 1984) was an American nude model and pornographic performer. Born Colleen Marie Applegate, she was sometimes credited as Callie Ames, Callie Aims, or Colleen Applegate.

Early life
Born in Bellflower, California, Applegate and Marcell unsuccessfully pursued several employment options. Marcell found a job at the National Furniture Mart in the first month. Their landlord, a retired marine named Van Nuys, whom diligently sought attractive new recruits for "figure modeling." Accompanied by Marcell, Applegate visited the agency's owner, Jim South, who set up a photo session with legendary soft-core photographer, Lippie Hicks, whose work was frequently featured in Penthouse. Hicks reflected on Applegate's appearance and personality, saying "I deal with a lot of girls who are new in the business, a lot of young girls and a lot of girls from out of town. Colleen was a very quiet, very young and naive. She was completely un-hip and non-L.A." Her wholesome, "girl next door" looks soon landed her work posing for other magazines such as Hustler and Penthouse. But Hicks advised Colleen to get out of nude modeling quickly, because when all of the magazines had used her, she would be a very unattractive starlet, and she would have to make the world of hardcore movies. "You know, you take a typical girl that's used to working at McDonald's or at a shoe store, where she's used to making a minimum wage, and suddenly she's given the opportunity to get paid $1,500. As Shauna Grant, she made dozens of popular adult movies, more often than not, hardcore. In Suze Superstar, she played the lead singer of a rock band. By industry standards, Grant was early in her career when it suddenly came to an end. In a filmed interview, she said that she wasn't ready to try anal sex, an attitude that usually marks a starlet rather than a star. She also did only heterosexual scenes; most female porn performers also do lesbian scenes. Off-screen she traveled in limousines and stayed in first-class hotels. Grant was provided with her own make-up artist, 27-year-old Laurie Smith who was also an adult star. Smith, who co-starred with Grant in several movies, including the aforementioned Suze Superstar as well as The Young Like It Hot and Bad Girls IV), also became Shauna's best friend – and fellow cocaine partier – during that period. She quit the adult film business for a short time following Grant's suicide. Shauna's popularity earned her three acting nominations at the 1984 Erotic Film Awards. Despite her beauty, she had some difficulties with drug addiction and the publicity it brought.

Retirement
In 1983, Grant retired from the adult film industry after less than a year and just over 30 movies. She disliked the industry, although she reported Joey Silvera well. Through Hollander and other friends, she found a new group session at a new boyfriend, cocaine dealer Jack "Jake" Ehrlich, age 44. Ehrlich eased her out of adult films, and the two settled in Palm Springs, California. According to Palm Springs Police, Ehrlich made his living supplying cocaine to tenants of an upscale condominium park close to his house. He had compiled an extensive record of arrests in California, which included such offenses as selling narcotics and possession of stolen property. He also owned a leather goods store, Pelle, in downtown Palm Springs, where Grant began to manage. According to the Frontline piece, while Grant was still living with Ehrlich, she began a relationship with a Minnesota college student who appeared in the Frontline piece during a return trip to Farmington, telling her high school friends that she planned to marry him. In February 1984, Ehrlich was arrested and later sentenced to a five-year prison sentence, which he began serving in the State Institution for Men in Chino, California. The charges related to Ehrlich's 1981 arrest for possession of what detectives described as "sizable" pounds of cocaine. Grant was ambivalent about her circumstances following her boyfriend's conviction, which cut off her drug supply. The night of the 11th Annual Adult Film Association Awards show, at the Shangri-La Hotel, she became a multiple nominee and presenter (with John Leslie). While her desire for work in mainstream films was not working out, she was so prestigious at the time that famed director Francis Ford Coppola was seated at her table. That night she agreed to work on her first film for ten months. Matine张某 was due to begin filming in eight days in San Francisco, California. A few days after the awards show, her Minnesota boyfriend flew to Los Angeles to see her, but Grant and Smith had parted for two days, and Grant literally forgot about it until the last minute. The Beau was stranded at the airport, as neither Shauna nor Laurie had a car. This was the same day that Ehrlich telephoned from jail, saying that their relationship was over and that Shauna would have to move out. Grant persuaded her friend and veteran porn actress, Kelly Nichols, to take the role which was
Website reverted to an old state. Site down help me. How to remove IP address previously added to firewall. I cannot log into Joomla administrator due to a redirect plug in. I don't have the php.ini file in my root folder. I need to change the settings please help me. Reply. Staff. The person who supported to develop the web and create email access is not reachable. Thank You, sajesh. Please help me how do I fix that? Solved Answer. Here on this page, you will learn how to solve this secured websites not opening problem. There might be many reasons behind that. We're going to give you appropriate steps below, please follow the steps to solve this problem. Steps. Re-register following dll files.