Untangling the web: Deceptive responding in fear of crime research

Item Type: Book section
Subjects: B Philosophy. Psychology. Religion > BF Psychology
Divisions: Faculties > Social Sciences > School of Psychology
Depositing User: C.A. Simms
Date Deposited: 10 Jun 2008 18:26 UTC
Last Modified: 06 Jun 2014 08:49 UTC
Resource URI: https://kar.kent.ac.uk/id/eprint/4499 (The current URI for this page, for reference purposes)

The research problem for the study is to understand the influential factors that shape the view that individuals hold of fear of crime including protection and precaution methods. The research also sheds light on the difference in perception of men and women regarding the fear of crime and what influences that difference. Significance of the research. Fear of crime has a huge and profound impact on any society.