
Full text not available from this repository.

Abstract

This is a study of young people in Britain who have left home before the age of 21, 80 young people from the four contrasting areas of Swindon, Liverpool, Sheffield and Kirkcaldy were interviewed in depth. The book is a contribution to this relatively neglected topic and looks at various critical and under-researched social issues: youth, homelessness, courtship, marriage and family formation and single parenthood. Drawing on his interviews, the author gives insights into the dynamics of family life, housing situations, attitudes and political issues and the contrasting self concepts of these young people.

Item Type: Book

Additional Information: From 1999 Cassell's academic and religious lists were merged with the American company Continuum to form the Continuum International Publishing Group.

Uncontrolled Keywords: case study, young people, Britain, school leavers, Swindon, Liverpool, Sheffield, Kirkcaldy, social issues, youth, homelessness, courtship, marriage, family formation, single parenthood, housing

Subjects:
- H Social Sciences > HN Social history and conditions. Social problems. Social reform
- H Social Sciences > HQ The family. Marriage. Woman
- H Social Sciences > HT Communities. Classes. Races

Pre-2014 Departments: School of Education

Related URLs:
- Publisher
- Organisation

Last Modified: 14 Oct 2016 09:22

Actions (login required)

- View Item

Connect with us

- Student & Staff portal
- IT & library services
How come people cannot leave other people alone? When should a person leave home? How do I make a home feel like home for young people? What do young people do in Paris? How open are people in senior homes to young people talking to them? Why do people have to leave? Why do young people like Snapchat? Why are people leaving speed cubing? Do young people live with the old people? Why do I hate when people leave? Do I need to care about what people think and say about me? Why can’t people just call it a slideshow instead of a "deck"?