A Study of the Utah Newspaper War, 1870-1900

Luther L. Heller, Brigham Young University - Provo

Abstract
The purpose of this investigation has been to write an account of the Utah newspaper war during the final thirty years of the nineteenth century, with emphasis on the events that brought about the establishment of the Salt Lake Tribune, the men who guided its destiny, news and editorial content, as well as its role in the economic, social and political history of Utah.
