Book Details

Type: Book
Title: The Battle for China's Past: Mao and the Cultural Revolution
Author: Gao, C.
Publisher: Pluto Press
Publisher Place: UK
Issue Date: 2008
ISBN: 9780745327815
Statement of Responsibility: Mobo Gao

Contents:
1. Debating the Cultural Revolution
2. Constructing history: memories, values and identity
3. Constructing history: memories, autobiographies and biographies in Chinese
4. Mao, the Unknown Story: an intellectual scandal
5. Moa: the known story and the logic of denial
6. How a medical doctor doctors history: a case study of Li Zhisui
7. Challenging the hegemony: contrary narratives in the e-media (I) - Mao and the Cultural Revolution
8. Challenging the hegemony: contrary narratives in the e-media (II) - Mao era
9. The problem of the rural-urban divide in pursuit of modernity: values and attitudes
10. The battle of China's history: seeing the past from the present

RMID: 0020084894
Appears in Collections: Asian Studies publications

Files in This Item:

There are no files associated with this item.
China's past and future come under close scrutiny in Mark Leonard's What Does China Think and Mobo Gao's The Battle for China's Past, says Michael Rank. Michael Rank. Sat 19 Apr 2008 00.24 BST First published on Sat 19 Apr 2008 00.24 BST. Mobo Gao's book is a bold attempt to reclaim the cultural revolution as a period of intellectual and political creativity rather than an unmitigated disaster, as China's political elite sees it. Gao says this is not the view of China's peasants - he comes from a rural background - and claims that "the overwhelming voice of the rural people is that they recall the Mao era with fondness." The Battle for China’s Past: Mao and the Cultural Revolution est un livre publié en 2008 par Mobo Gao, professeur de chinois et de civilisation chinoise à l'université d'Adélaïde en Australie. For faster navigation, this iframe is preloading the Wikiwand page for The Battle for China's Past: Mao and the Cultural Revolution. Home. News. Random Article. Install Wikiwand. Follow Us. Send a suggestion.