In 1926 the Kruger National Park in South Africa became the first national park in Africa to accept visitors. Since that date there has been a propaganda campaign to convince people outside of the administration of the importance of the national park project and the value of the wildlife inside the parks. As a large tract of land in a land-hungry region of the country, the Kruger Park required both political and public support to ensure its survival. This attempt to communicate with the pu...

Private Game Reserves near Kruger like Sabi Sands or Timbavati are very well-known and offer some of the best private and luxury safari lodges in South Africa. There are no fences; the animals roam freely between Kruger Park and the Private Game Reserves. Spot the wild animals from your lodge while they are gathering around a waterhole or go on day or night drives in open land rovers. For the adventurers, bush walks are also available. The Sabi Sand Reserve borders Kruger National Park and there are no fences between them which allows the animals freedom of movement to wander their chosen routes over vast areas which was normal in the past. Visitors have the choice of some of the best private game lodges which are in the Sabi Sand Game Reserve. Only in 1926 Kruger National Park was proclaimed by merging Sabie and Shingwedzi national park. The size of the park in South Africa is almost 20 000 km², which is about the size of Wales and slightly smaller than Belgium or Israel. In other words, the distance from north to south is 360 km and from east to west is 65 km. Kruger National Park is home to the notorious Big Five animals. First and foremost, visiting the Kruger National Park South Africa means you will be going on a safari, also called a game drive. And if you love to see a large variation of wildlife, the Kruger Park is definitely the place to be. The park has more different species than any other game reserve in Africa. Kruger National Park is one of the largest and most famous wildlife sanctuaries in the world. Contact East Cape Tours for a Kruger National Park Booking. All of the lodges within the park offer exciting morning and evening game drives, where guests can enjoy close-up views of these amazing African animals. Smaller animals and an abundance of birdlife can be seen on guided bush walks, including honey badgers, rock dassies, thick-tailed bushbabies and tree squirrels. With a great variety of big game living in the area, Kruger National Park is one of the premier game-viewing destinations in the world. Open 7 Days a Week. We are open from Monday to Sunday, and pride ourselves on our quick, reliable and friendly service. Passionate Experts.
Private Game Reserves near Kruger like Sabi Sands or Timbavati are very well-known and offer some of the best private and luxury safari lodges in South Africa. There are no fences; the animals roam freely between Kruger Park and the Private Game Reserves. Spot the wild animals from your lodge while they are gathering around a waterhole or go on day or night drives in open land rovers. For the adventurers, bush walks are also available. The Sabi Sand Reserve borders Kruger National Park and there are no fences between them which allows the animals freedom of movement to wander their chosen routes over vast areas which was normal in the past. Visitors have the choice of some of the best private game lodges which are in the Sabi Sand Game Reserve. Only in 1926 Kruger National Park was proclaimed by merging Sabie and Shingwedzi national park. The size of the park in South Africa is almost 20 000 km2, which is about the size of Wales and slightly smaller than Belgium or Israel. In other words, the distance from north to south is 360 km and from east to west is 65 km. Kruger National Park is home to the notorious Big Five animals. First and foremost, visiting the Kruger National Park South Africa means you will be going on a safari, also called a game drive. And if you love to see a large variation of wildlife, the Kruger Park is definitely the place to be. The park has more different species than any other game reserve in Africa. Kruger National Park is one of the largest and most famous wildlife sanctuaries in the world. Contact East Cape Tours for a Kruger National Park Booking. All of the lodges within the park offer exciting morning and evening game drives, where guests can enjoy close-up views of these amazing African animals. Smaller animals and an abundance of birdlife can be seen on guided bush walks, including honey badgers, rock dassies, thick-tailed bushbabies and tree squirrels. With a great variety of big game living in the area, Kruger National Park is one of the premier game-viewing destinations in the world. Open 7 Days a Week. We are open from Monday to Sunday, and pride ourselves on our quick, reliable and friendly service. Passionate Experts.