Zombies in the Academy Edited by Ruth Walker, Chris Moore and Andrew Whelan Zombies in the Academy taps into the resurgence of interest in zombie culture to examine the relevance of the zombie trope to discussions of scholarly practice itself. The book will bring together scholars from a range of fields – cultural and communication studies, sociology, film studies and education – to give a critical account of the political, cultural and pedagogical state of the university through applying the metaphor of zombiedom to both form and content of academic work. 312pp | Price The Zombies are an English rock band formed in 1962 in St Albans and led by keyboardist and vocalist Rod Argent and vocalist Colin Blunstone. The group scored British and American hits in 1964 with "She's Not There". In the US, two further singles "Tell Her No" in 1965 and "Time of the Season" in 1968 were also successful. Their 1968 album Odessey and Oracle is ranked number 100 on Rolling Stone Magazine’s list of the 500 Greatest Albums of All Time. The Zombies were inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 2009.
